

Errata list

Fields of Green and Gold: Territorial hunger, rural planning, and the political ecologies of high-end golf.

Erik Jönsson

Page/Line	Original text	Corrected text
9/ Figure	Fig 2.	Fig 1.
17/15	A first more permanent golf course was established in Hovås, south of Gothenburg in (Ekermann, 2007).	A first more permanent golf course was established in Hofås, south of Gothenburg in 1904 (Ekermann, 2007).
18/23	The Worldwatch Institute estimates that irrigating the world's golf courses consumes 9,500,000 m ³ /year (cited in Wheeler & Nauright, 2006).	The Worldwatch Institute estimates that irrigating the world's golf courses consumes 9,500,000 m ³ /day (cited in Wheeler & Nauright, 2006).
81/4	Irene Seth, Moderates – Chairman of the Municipal Assembly, Upplands-Bro	Irène Seth, Moderates – Chair of the Executive Committee, Upplands-Bro
Article II, 2/18	On the way to Bro Hof Slott visitors thereafter first pass a rune-stone - popularly referred to as the Bro stone or Assur's stone - erect since 1866	On the way to Bro Hof Slott visitors thereafter first pass a rune-stone - popularly referred to as the Bro stone or Assur's stone - erect since 1886